SUBJECT: Student Research

Good afternoon,

My name is Dave Cappelli. I am a senior electrical engineering student at Clarkson University. My area of study is concentrated in computer networks. I have been fortunate enough to obtain a job with Cisco Systems upon graduating from Clarkson this spring. In order to be better prepared for this position and to obtain some more experience in it, I have signed up for a directed study which allows me to research all of the computer networking topics I believe to be helpful for my job.

So far, I have been working with Clarkson to learn and better understand their network topology and the hardware they use. Since I will be going to Cisco, I also try to ask questions regarding their relationship with the company and their opinions of them.

I am writing to you in order to see if I could schedule a meeting with someone there to discuss the North Countries Internet access, what instruments you use to create this network, and specifically what you use that is from Cisco and how you like it.

If there is someone specifically I could meet with for about an hour of so I would be very appreciative. I am just looking to gain some more knowledge of how the networks are built and what makes them run. This information would be hugely helpful to my upcoming job and I would very much appreciate any and all help you could provide me with.

Thank you very much for your time and consideration. I look forward to hearing back from you soon.

Sincerely,
Dave
